

When there is a dispute ...

“Dispute - a disagreement or argument about something important”

Sadly, it may not always be possible to avoid a disagreement and you may find that you need particular specialist advice.

At Alletsons, we understand the importance of such matters to you. We appreciate the emotional and financial difficulties such problems cause and we always assess the issue(s) from your perspective.

So, how can we help you? Our Specialist lawyers will approach the situation from an objective standpoint. They will provide you with support and clear advice enabling you to focus on the solutions and so be far better equipped to resolve the dispute. Our professional, yet personal approach, will allow you to understand the litigation process and, should it become necessary, the process of any other contentious or court procedure.

Areas of disagreement typically can be:

- Property Disputes such as boundary or neighbour issues
- Landlord & Tenant Disputes such as non payment of rent or eviction
- Commercial Disputes such as breach of obligations under a contract
- Wills, Trusts & Estates Disputes such as contentious probate
- Inheritance such as contesting a Will or rectifying mistakes in a Will
- Construction & Building Disputes such as leasehold/freehold problems or Independent contractor issues
- Employment Disputes such as dismissal or failure to follow grievance procedures
- Contract Disputes

Avoiding disagreements

At Alletsons, we recognise the need to adapt to a changing landscape. Our aim is to seek to resolve issues before they become disputed.

Our Specialist Lawyers can provide advice to you, or your business, so you are always clear to the terms that you contract to. We are able to advise upon documents or in the alternative, draft the documents for you providing you with peace of mind. We are only ever a phone call away and as our Client, you can take advantage of the diversity of knowledge our Lawyers can provide. We can offer complete advice on all aspects of Employment law necessary for the smooth running of your business, for instance:

- Standard Employment Contract or Tailored Contract Clauses
- Settlement Agreements

Or perhaps you are considering expanding your business or merging, then we can offer advice upon:

- Commercial Contracts
- Insolvency and Restructuring
- Creditor Services

Contact us today and let us help you to solve your civil or commercial concerns.
